JESUS IS THE RESURRECTION AND THE LIFE

So this whole Gospel is built around revelations of the glory of God in Jesus. And what we saw last week in the story of Lazarus is the way Jesus loves us. He does not mainly love us in this life by sparing us suffering and death. He mainly loves us by showing us and giving us himself and his glory. God loves us mainly by giving us himself and all that he is for us in Jesus. Jesus loves us mainly by giving us himself and all that God is for us in him.

In the fast-changing and bewildering context of a Coronavirus, how can our response be shaped by the example of Jesus? Jesus recognizes that some of the most important ministry happens in the moments that first seem like interruptions. From his birth to his death. Jesus places the poorest and most vulnerable at the heart of his Church. Jesus bears witness to a new order of life and love, without denying the reality of the bygone order of sin and death.

His ministry only makes sense in the context of resurrection hope.
